

Wandering Boy Dan Liska to Travel on 2 Continents

The World-Herald's News Service.

Niobrara, Neb.—Danny Liska, Nebraska's adventuresome wandering boy, has itching feet again.

The Knox County rancher and his wife Arlene left Friday for Chicago, Ill., to set the stage for another double-continent - spanning trip by motorcycle.

They are to pick up a pennant being presented them by the Adventurer's Club.

They hope to fly the flag on their motorcycle later this year on a jaunt which they plan to start at Cape Town, Africa, and end at the North Cape of Norway.

Danny has already motorcycled from the tip of Alaska to the tip of South America.

His exploits, ranging from a trial by jungle headhunters to being a stand-in for Yul Brynner in the current movie, "Taras Bulba," on location in the Argentine, were chronicled in The Omaha World-Herald and its Magazine of the Midlands.

Since his return from South America last year he has been giving slide lectures through Nebraska.
